EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

ALLO Communications is a telecommunications company offering internet, broadband, telephone, and television to residents, businesses, and government entities through fiber-based networks.

ALLO has designed, constructed, maintained, and provided services for ubiquitous FTTP networks since 2004 in cities with populations ranging from 1,400 to 290,000 with a total population served of 1.3 million and increasing.

We have expanded our network throughout Nebraska, Colorado, Arizona, and Missouri with a passion for providing greater access and a goal to close the digital divide. We are making a substantial economic impact in our communities with our fiber network, helping to meet the technology needs of businesses and residents.

Our team serves government entities, businesses, schools, and residents creating gigabit societies. ALLO has invested more than $1 billion in FTTP assets in more than 50 communities and generates more than $150 million in annual revenue.

ALLO employs more than 1,850 associates located throughout corporate offices in Lincoln and Imperial, Nebraska; as well as business locations in its communities in Nebraska, Colorado, Arizona, and Missouri. ALLO's Lincoln office employs more than 500 people.

ALLO's ownership includes SDC Capital and Nelnet. The collaboration provides ALLO with access to additional capital from SDC and Nelnet to continue expanding its fiber optic network and superior service offerings.

ALLO's growth and success over the past two decades is evidence of our technical capabilities, experienced personnel, superior products, and unmatched reputation for customer service. Our modern network, expert team of engineers, operators, and technical specialists combine with the immense capacity of ALLO's fiber network to provide unparalleled service to our partner communities.

ALLO provides (or is in the process of providing) ubiquitous gigabit services in the following communities. ALLO has more than 175,000 customers across its markets, which will mature to 600,000 customers.
