3.A. Consider the Family Learning Community Network Commitment Agreement

Ryan Hinz, Director of Adult & Family Education for Crete Public Schools, introduced Brian Welch with the National Center for Families Learning, Felicia Smith and Tracy Teater. Hinz explained that the Family Learning Community Network Commitment Agreement with the 60X30 Vision is to establish 60 communities in the family learning systems by 2030. Hinz stated that the National Center for Family Literacy has been around since 1989.

Hinz mentioned that NCFL commitments are:

- to support development and implementation of the Family Learning Community blueprint and action plan

- Build capacity to reduce barriers, identify gaps, and streamline duplication of services
- Identify strategic partnerships
- Elevate stories through shared communications
- Support Family Learning Community fundraising efforts
- Network Family Learning Communities across the country
- Provide professional learning and technical support to enhance Family Engagement, Family Literacy, and Family Leadership.

Hinz stated that they were looking to partner and not recreate and keep communication open.

City Administrator Tom Ourada explained that there is ongoing discussion with Mayor Dave Bauer. The Community Assistance Office is going through some expansion and rebranding.
