

The College President recommends continuation of the advanced manufacturing design technology, auto body technology, automotive technology, human services and welding technology programs without monitoring.