

CENTRAL COMMUNITY COLLEGE

FURNAS ARCHITECTURAL BIDS

HASTING CAMPUS

The college sent out request for proposals for the Furnas automotive and autobody project on the Hastings campus. The scope of work the college intends to contract for architectural services needed to design, develop plans and specification, bidding, assist in selection of contractor, construction administration, and project close out. The percentages below are based off a $18 million dollar project.

The college received two bids for this project. It is as follows:

Wilkins ADP
Kearney, Nebraska

5.75% cost of construction

CMBA Architects
Grand Island, Nebraska

6.0% cost of construction

The College President recommends acceptance of the low percentage from Wilkins ADP for architectural services for the Automotive and Autobody building on the Hastings Campus.