BIXBY
PUBLIC SCHOOLS

STRATEGIC PLAN

2026-2030

Ignite the Potential of Every Student

www.bixbyps.org

MESSAGE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT

Public education is one of the most powerful commitments a community can make to its future. In Bixby Public Schools, we believe deeply that our schools exist not only to educate students, but to strengthen families, build community, and sustain a healthy, prosperous democracy. This five-year strategic plan reflects that belief, serving as our shared roadmap for the future.

At the heart of this plan is a culture of innovation, one that encourages thoughtful problem-solving, reflective improvement, and bold thinking on behalf of every student. Innovation in Bixby is not about change for its own sake; it is about ensuring that our systems, practices, and learning environments evolve to meet the needs of today's students while preparing them for tomorrow's opportunities, whatever they may be.

Our plan is organized into five focus areas that guide our work: safe facilities and sound operations, healthy and welcoming culture, vibrant teaching and learning, exemplary teachers and staff, and family and community engagement. Within each area, we have established clear goals, action steps, and measurable outcomes designed to deliver real benefits to students, staff, families, and the broader community. These priorities are interconnected, with progress in each area strengthening the whole.

We believe every student deserves equitable access to the opportunities created in our public school system, regardless of background, circumstances, or individual resources. Our responsibility is to remove barriers, expand possibilities, and ensure that each learner is supported, challenged, and valued. Our plan is meant to be universal in its design while individualized in its implementation. We strive to attain both practical application and an inspirational vision, resulting in a plan that informs everything we do.

As such, success must be defined broadly, holding to our high standards. Every student should have the opportunity to experience success through strong academic learning, meaningful relationships, and diverse opportunities, both inside the classroom and through partnerships beyond school walls. By working alongside families, businesses, and community organizations, we can extend learning, helping students discover their strengths, interests, and purpose.

This strategic plan is both a promise and a call to action. It reflects the collective voice of our community, highlighting our shared commitment to students. Together, we will continue to build schools that are safe, welcoming, innovative, and deeply connected to the community they serve. Thank you for your trust, partnership, and belief in Bixby Public Schools. The future we are building is full of hope and belongs to all of us, most importantly, to our students.

With gratitude and resolve,

Lydia Wilson

PREVAILING CULTURE OF INNOVATION

It's not just about our technology; it's about our practices.

In our world, innovation is a buzzword, interpreted as a new way of thinking, an improved system or process, or a new technology. But in the end, what is innovative today typically becomes the status quo or even a thing of the past. For Bixby Public Schools, this means that innovation is a constantly moving target rooted in mindset, practice, and purpose. To remain innovative, we must maintain a collective commitment to continually ask how we can serve students, staff, and families better tomorrow than we did today. Innovation is the expectation that creativity, curiosity, and thoughtful risk-taking are embedded across every goal area of this strategic plan—not confined to a single department, initiative, or tool.

This prevailing culture of innovation calls us to think beyond the status quo and resist complacency when better outcomes are possible. It challenges us to ask "What if we...?" and "How might we improve this?" in our classrooms, operations, hiring practices, communications, and community partnerships. In our mission to ignite the potential of every student, innovation means being willing to pilot new approaches, reflect on results, learn from missteps, refine our work, and begin the cycle again.

A culture of innovation is also deeply connected to the Bixby Learner Attributes. We expect students, staff, and leaders alike to be innovative and inquisitive as they pursue better solutions, resilient and persistent as they learn from challenges, collaborative as they value diverse perspectives, and creative as they solve problems with intention and purpose. These attributes guide the district's decision-making, the pursuit of goals, and the measurement of success.

Innovation is evident in how we recruit and retain exemplary teachers and staff—by thinking differently about pipelines, partnerships, mentorship, and workplace culture. It is apparent in teaching and learning through engaging instructional practices, responsible systems of support, and opportunities that empower students to take ownership of their learning. It is embedded in operations through continuous process reviews to ensure efficiency, fiscal responsibility, and alignment with district priorities. It is present in family and community engagement by reimagining how we connect, communicate, and collaborate.

Ultimately, a prevailing culture of innovation reflects our belief that Bixby Public Schools can celebrate our progress while remaining committed to continuous improvement. By choosing curiosity over comfort and progress over tradition for tradition's sake, we reaffirm our commitment to doing what is best for students. Innovation is not an initiative; it is a way of thinking.

BENEFITS-BASED ACCOUNTABILITY

Bixby Public Schools believes the benefits of being a Bixby Spartan can't always be quantified, but where they can be, we believe in transparency.

Data Dashboard: Measuring What Matters

While some outcomes can be clearly measured through data, we recognize that many of the most meaningful impacts of education are not as easily quantified. These intangible benefits are essential to student success and remain central to our work.

A prevailing culture of innovation guides our approach to improvement and accountability. Where measurement is possible, we are committed to collecting meaningful data directly from students, staff, families, and the community. This approach ensures the data reflects what truly matters and informs continuous improvement.

The dashboard serves as a transparent accountability tool, shining a light on what is working well, where there is opportunity to grow, and where improvement can be most impactful. Through this commitment to innovation and transparency, Bixby Public Schools remains focused on igniting the potential of every student.
